TITLE AND ABSTRACT

* Title Infrared Thermal Stresses Monitoring of Medium Voltage Switchgear C

* Abstract The paper's aim is to highlight the procedure of monitoring the thermal stresses of electrical equipment through infrared thermography. In order to obtain satisfactory results for the thermal stresses estimation, a good definition of the correction parameters along with the selection of the optimum conditions for performing the infrared investigations must be accomplished. The paper describes a procedure for determining the thermal stress of a busbar system made of two branches of different electrical loads, with the use of infrared monitoring. In the paper are presented the common aspects of the wireless thermal stresses monitoring of the electrical

> IEEE Policies on Plagiarism:

Article Title: Infrared Thermal Stresses Monitoring of Medium Voltage Switchgear Cabinet

Authors: ALIN DRAGOMIR and Constantin-Bogdan Paduraru

Publication with IEEE is subject to the policies and procedures as described in the IEEE PSPB Operations Manual. Authors must ensure that their Work meets the requirements as stated in Section 8.2.1 of the IEEE PSPB Operations Manual, including provisions covering originality, authorship, author responsibilities and author misconduct.

I have read and agree to IEEE policies related to plagiarism and other forms of publishing misconduct.

About Plagiarism

IEEE defines plagiarism as the reuse of someone else's prior ideas, processes, results, or words without explicitly acknowledging the original author and source. It is important for all IEEE authors to recognize that plagiarism in any form, at any level, is unacceptable and is considered a serious breach of professional conduct.

About Similarity Check

IEEE takes the protection of intellectual property seriously. Accordingly, all submissions will be screened for plagiarism using Similarity Check. By submitting your work you agree to allow IEEE to screen your work. For more information please visit: <https://www.crossref.org/services/sim>

Step 2: Checking for Mandates

IEEE understands that certain authors may have specific requirements that must be satisfied to remain eligible for funding. To assist you in meeting these requirements, please indicate below if your paper has been funded in part by an organization that mandates deposit of a version of the article in an institutional repository.

If your work has been funded by an organization on the list below or if you are a student or staff at a UK-based university, please select the corresponding choice. You will then receive additional instructions on the steps needed to fulfill your requirements after the agreement is signed. If you are not affiliated with any of the organizations below, or you are not a UK University student/staff, please select "Not affiliated with any group on this list."

Select one

- Not affiliated with any group on this list
- Funded by UK Research and Innovation (UKRI)
- Funded by Wellcome Trust
- Funded by National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR)
- UK University Staff/Student (unspecified funder)
- Funded by Horizon Europe

Back Continue

What are Posting Mandates?

Certain affiliations may require that authors make their peer-reviewed publications publicly available by depositing a pre-print version of the work within a sanctioned repository.

IEEE has partnered with a selection of affiliates to assist with the process by providing authors instructions based on their specific mandate.

UK university staff and students that have unspecified funding and are required to adhere to posting mandates should select the "UK University Staff/Student (unspecified funder)"

Step 3: Select the appropriate publication agreement

Please select your employment status:

- Employed by a Crown Government
- Employed by the European Commission
- Employed by the United States Government
- None of the above

Back Continue

Employment status = copyright status

An author's copyright status is determined to a large extent by the type of employer for whom the author works. For example, if you are employed by the U.S. Government, and you are the sole author of your paper, then you should select "Employed by United States Government."

Similarly, if you are the sole author and you are employed by a Crown Government (or if you and all your coauthors are Crown Government employees), then copyright to your paper will remain with the Crown Government. You should select "Employed by a Crown Government."
